

Northeast Gateway

What is Northeast Gateway?

Northeast Gateway is a proposed limited-access toll road that extends from FM 1570 near IH 30 in Hunt County to the President George Bush Turnpike in Dallas County. Comprehensive studies show how the 27-miles of six and four lane high speed roadway will meet some of the transportation needs identified in the Blacklands Corridor Feasibility Study, conducted by the North Central Texas Council of Governments.

Texas Turnpike Corp., the project developer, is a proactive, private entity which provides private sector support to government agencies seeking to solve regional transportation problems. The company is not a taxing jurisdiction or a quasi-government authority functioning like government does, such as the North Texas Tollway Authority. Texas Turnpike Corp. is NOT financially dependent on the State or Federal governments in any way.

Fiscal responsibility, public safety and environmental stewardship are integral to Texas Turnpike Corp.'s business plans.

Your Input Matters

Plans for Northeast Gateway are undergoing an extensive environmental assessment under the guidance of the Texas Department of Transportation as the project sponsor. The study looks at project constraints which could include homes, businesses, schools, public parks/recreational areas, cemeteries, creeks and streams, wetlands, wildlife and wildlife refuges, known archaeological sites, historical markers, potential hazardous materials sites and socioeconomic conditions.

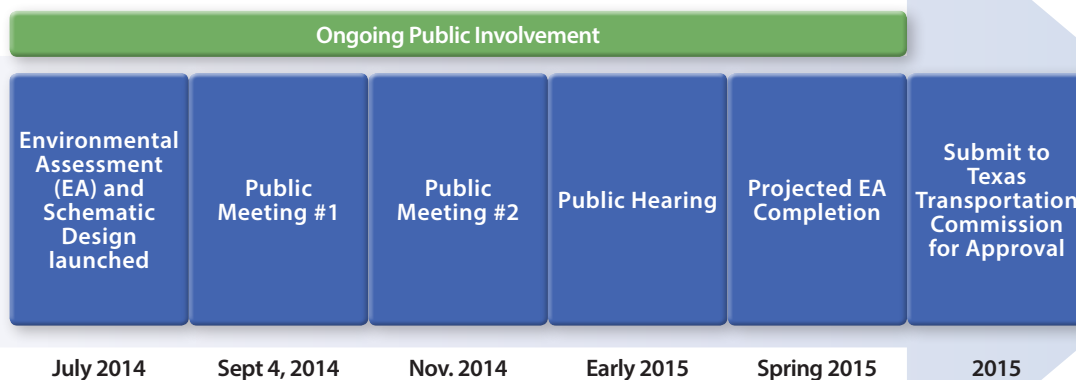

The public is encouraged to make comments based on the plans. To learn more, or to make comments:
